Author Bio
Juliette calls lush, moss-laden Louisiana home, where the landscape curls into her imagination, creating mystical settings for her stories. Her love of mythology, legends and art serve as constant inspiration for her works. From the moment she read Jane Eyre as a teenager, she fell in love with Gothic romance—brooding characters, mysterious settings, persevering heroines, and dark, sexy heroes.

The Deepest Well

Juliette Cross

Abducted by the demon lord Damas, Katherine resists his seduction, but her fierce protector fights dragons of his own while the fate of the world hangs in the balance.

Description

Love can stand the test of time. Can it rise above the taint of Hell?

On the same night Lady Katherine witnesses how low her husband can sink, she meets a charming stranger, a gentleman from top to toe.

George is on a mission to expel the demon prince Damas back to the underworld. But a golden-haired beauty derails his plans. He sweeps Katherine away, and with every touch, their love grows.

Damas kidnaps Katherine to his hellish lair, where he wages a sensual assault on her defenses. George is painfully aware of only one way to save her soul. The cost will break her heart... and destroy his own.

“If you’re looking for urban fantasy with plenty of heart, Cross delivers with a truly diverting tale.”

Review Quotes

- “The characters, story line, and setting are all wonderful. I enjoyed it from the first word and didn’t put it down until I was done. I can’t wait for Juliette Cross to release the next book so we can see where Jude and Genevieve go from here.”
—Fresh Fiction on Forged in Fire
- “Action packed, fast paced and steamy, I recommend to any paranormal romance enthusiast. Sealed in Sin can stand alone, however, you won’t want it to. Like Pringles...you can’t just have one...feast upon this cracky goodness!”
